Choosing your ticket

Metrolink offers a range of ticket types to suit a wide variety of travel needs.

To make a journey between two specific stops on the network for one day only, choose Single or Return tickets. Remember that you must complete your outward journey within 90 minutes of buying your ticket.

Regular benefits

If you use the tram regularly you can choose from a Weekly, 4-weekly, Quarterly or Annual Season ticket which allows you unlimited travel on your specified route for the period covered by your ticket.

If your season ticket covers a journey into the City Zone, you get the added benefit of being able to use it for unlimited travel within the City Zone for the same period.

To purchase a 4-weekly, Quarterly or Annual Season ticket you first need to get a free Metrolink Travel Club ID Card, which are available from any Transport for Greater Manchester Travelshop or you can download an application form at www.metrolink.co.uk

Greater freedom

If you want the freedom to travel anywhere on the network then a Day Travelcard offers great value for money.

Choose between a peak Day Travelcard, which is valid anytime, or an off-peak Day Travelcard which is valid after 9.30am Mondays to Fridays, and all day Saturday, Sunday and public holidays. You can make as many journeys as you like to different places on the network up to the last tram of the day.

Better value for money

For those using the tram at weekends or as a family or group, you can get even better value.

As an individual, you can travel anywhere on the network from 6pm Friday to the last tram on Sunday for just £5.50 with a Weekend Travelcard.

If you're travelling with the family, up to three children accompanied by one or two adults can travel anywhere on the network for a day with a Family Day Travelcard for just £6.80, or you can get the most out of a weekend with unlimited travel for just £7.50 with a Family Weekend Travelcard.

Up to four adults travelling together outside peak hours can buy a Group Day Travelcard for travel anywhere on the network for just £10.50.
